A note from your president

This month has gone very quickly and we have enjoyed extraordinary media coverage, I have received comments such as "the newspaper should be called the BPW news". I think that is a great name, BPW is such a great association that it should be recognised in our community.

I had the privilege of meeting Ipswich Mayor Paul Pisasale at the Chamber of Commerce dinner, what an inspiration and boy he really likes BPW. He is eager to re-establish a club in Ipswich. So I have engaged with the Mayor and talks have begun. If you are interested in participating in a working party to help set up the club, please see me.

wife will be attending our candle lighting ceremony. The candle lighting team have been working tirelessly to organise an amazing event for us. The candle lighting ceremony is the pinnacle of the BPW Calender celebrating International Women's Day. Please come along and bring your friends and family to this great event.

I attended a meeting with the Morayfield and districts Lions Club and spoke about BPW. It was a fantastic night, the members were very keen to support BPW and their projects. I am hoping to continue a great relationship with them in the future. The members asked many relevant questions and acknowledged that they were unsure what BPW did but now felt that they had an understanding of our work.

We are actively working to provide our members with opportunities to develop themselves personally and professionally, so please keep watching this space.

All the best Kimberly James
